

• Blue Bonnets Race Track is one of several in Montreal. An afternoon out here or in the large Base Ball Park gives relief to the sightseer. After all, sightseeing is thrilling (and tiring), and if you want excitement, these are some of the places where you can find it. For information about the races or the baseball games or other events in the sporting world we refer you respectfully to your hotel information bureau—there's always somebody there who knows what's the best bet—for an afternoon or evening diversion.
